

Dear DeviceAnywhere Users,

This month, the DeviceAnywhere Team is getting geared up for the launch of our latest release, DeviceAnywhere 4.1, scheduled for the end of March. DeviceAnywhere 4.1 features DeviceAnywhere Pro, a comprehensive test automation tool that will help make repetitive testing a lot more efficient. For more information about this feature and how you can trial it now, read on below!

DeviceAnywhere Announces DeviceAnywhere Pro!

DeviceAnywhere Pro, due to be commercially available at the end of March, allows users to create and run automated tests on DeviceAnywhere handsets. Unlike alternative automation products that use emulators or simulators, DeviceAnywhere Pro combines the convenience of automation software with the accuracy of real devices to generate reliable, repeatable and reportable test results. ## Upcoming DeviceAnywhere Events

Mobile Complete will be speaking at CeBit Hannover, at two events:

- ▶ "Capturing the Potential of Wireless Enterprise" March 5th, 11AM
- ▶ "How to Jump Start Mobile Browsing & mCommerce" March 8th, 10:30AM

And, we'll be on a panel at the Wireless Developer Forum, March 10th: "Navigating the Route to Market".

Lastly, Mobile Complete will be exhibiting at CTIA in Las Vegas, April 1-3, Booth #4419. Please stop by!

DA Tips and Tricks

Each handset has a properties dialog box, that contains information about the handset, such as its phone number, ESN if available, and any known device issues. To access a handset's properties:

- ▶ Right-click on a handset in the device list pane (a handset does not need to be acquired to view its properties).
- ▶ Or, if the handset is acquired, you can right-click on the handset image to bring up the device menu, and select Properties.

Resources

- ▶ For new DeviceAnywhere users, and those wanting a refresher course, we are holding our monthly DeviceAnywhere training webinar on Thursday March 13th, at 10AM PST.
